Enphase Energy Appoints New Regional Director for France and Switzerland

Solar PV Veteran Gerald Semenjuk to Support Company Expansion in Energy Management in French and Swiss Markets

LYON, FRANCE--(Marketwired - April 04, 2016) - Enphase Energy, Inc. (NASDAQ: ENPH), a global energy technology company, announced today that Gerald Semenjuk has joined the company as regional director for France and Switzerland.

Based in Enphase's European headquarters office in Lyon, Semenjuk will lead Enphase's business efforts in the two countries, overseeing the company's strategic sales direction while continuing to drive partners and customers' growth. He will report into Peter van Berkel, general manager of Enphase EMEA.

Gerald Semenjuk joins Enphase from SolarWorld France where he served as sales director from 2012 and as managing director from 2014. During his tenure he drove a strategy of growth, heading several key technology partnerships and successfully refocusing sales and services efforts on comprehensive customized solutions. Prior to SolarWorld, Semenjuk held high-ranking sales and managing positions at companies such as Saint-Gobain Solar System and GiraSolar Lux. His professional tenure also includes experience in ICT and services companies.

"We are delighted that Gerald, with his strong solar experience and sales leadership, has joined Enphase to strengthen our efforts in France and Switzerland, where with an expanded sales team and an innovative energy management system portfolio we expect to expand our business and increase the service levels to our customers," said Peter van Berkel, general manager, Enphase EMEA.

Enphase has gained a leading market position in residential PV in France and plans continued expansion in both France and Switzerland, which are mature and advanced solar markets, well-suited for the robust, easy-to-use, Enphase microinverter technology and the company's forthcoming integrated energy management system.

"I am excited to begin a new challenge with Enphase," said Gerald Semenjuk. "I feel confident that supported by the company's talented team, we can look forward to Enphase taking a leadership position in the energy management space to help clients exploit the changes we are seeing in the market."
