Enphase Energy to Demonstrate Microinverter Momentum at Intersolar Europe 2012 Exhibition and Conference

PETALUMA, Calif.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Enphase Energy, Inc. (NASDAQ: ENPH), will be exhibiting the complete Enphase® Microinverter System at Intersolar Europe, to be held at the New Munch Trade Fair Center in Munich, Germany, from June 13 to June 15, 2012. Visitors can discover the benefits of AC (alternating current) solar through hands-on product demonstrations at Enphase booth #C3.340 or by attending Enphase's presentation at the Intersolar Europe Conference.

The Enphase Energy team will help visitors experience the Enphase Microinverter System, which is currently installed in approximately 44,000 solar arrays across the globe, at hands-on demonstration roofs throughout the booth. System elements include Enphase's third-generation M215 Microinverter, backed by a 25-year limited warranty, Envoy Communications Gateway and Enlighten monitoring and analysis software.

Enphase's expert technical staff will be available at the booth to provide best practices for project planning to solar system integrators in European countries where Enphase supplies products. Enphase currently ships to France, Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg and Italy and has offices in Lyon, France and Milan, Italy. For those new to the Enphase Microinverter System, the technical and training staff will introduce how to quickly get started installing Enphase with local in-person or web-based training modules.

Olivier Jacques, country manager for Enphase Energy France and Benelux, will be presenting during the Intersolar Europe Conference on microinverter technology and Enphase's field experiences from having shipped over 1.8 million microinverters to global solar markets. Conference attendees can watch the presentation at the "Balance of Systems" session to be held on Wednesday, June 13 from 1:30 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. in room 14C of the International Congress Center Munich (ICM).

On Thursday, June 14, from 5:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m., Enphase will host a booth reception with complimentary refreshments and musical entertainment open to all Intersolar Europe visitors.
